EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR/Shireen McSpadden

DAS Executive Director Shireen McSpadden announced that three weeks ago the Governor launched the Great Plates program. Ms. McSpadden stated that even though there was a few kinks the DAS Intake Office staff was able to ramp up and in a very short time has served 1300 people. This shows the great need that we have with food insecurity in San Francisco. In addition they are using two different vendors in order to get as many San Francisco restaurants involved as possible. These two vendors are an umbrella model and have many different restaurants working with them and provide the back end support and infrastructure that is needed. However, this program is a FEMA reimbursement program and is approved on a month-to-month basis which is slated to end tomorrow. DAS has not yet heard whether the program will be extended or not, although every indication says the program will be reinstated. Ms. McSpadden next mentioned the Area Plan. DAS was given an extension to finish the almost completed Area Plan when COVID-19 hit. The Area Plan will be brought before the Advisory Council next week for approval and then in July to the DAS Commission for final approval. Additionally, Ms. McSpadden mentioned that DAS and our community partners made over twenty-nine thousand wellness-check calls. For the most part people that were called did not need more services than what they are already receiving which shows that our system is working and people are getting what they need from our staff. Ms. McSpadden addressed the DAS Quality Management Service team, who are now providing fit testing and n-95 masks for DAS staff. The DAS Clinical Quality Assurance unit nurses are also assisting in fit testing for Family and Children Services staff. It’s nice that the CQA unit nurses are using their expertise to help across the agency and are working with Human Resources to make sure that people have what they need to serve. In terms of shelter in place sites, DAS is continuing to provide support for vulnerable clients with home care services as well as case management. Currently, DAS is serving over 70 clients in that program on an ongoing basis. CLF is serving 17 clients with case management. Adult Protective Services (APS) continues to respond to clients in need of that service. The DAS Office of Conservatorship is working with the city attorney to legalize the process for the Conservatorship program. This is something that was talked about pre-COVID-19 and hasn’t been mentioned since but we’re trying to march forward with that program and get it in place. Ms. McSpadden went on to mention the state budget and the number of cuts to older adult services. There was a huge outcry among advocates and older adults themselves and the legislature responded by not accepting the majority of those cuts. Ms. McSpadden said at this point it’s looking much more positive than it did a few weeks ago and we’re hoping that those reductions will not take place. On a federal level, Ms. McSpadden said that there was not much happening but mentioned that the Heroes Act is in play and that there is money in there for senior services on a variety of levels. Finally, Ms. McSpadden announced that June is Elder Independent and Adult Abuse Awareness month in California. There are two webinars planned to recognize this month and the Commission secretary can send more information to those who are interested.
