3. Discussion + Action Strategies

- The domain names Outdoor Spaces and Buildings are directly from the World Health Organization and is a broad category.
- The domains go in cycles and we are now beginning our 2nd cycle action strategy of the Aging Disability Friendly effort since the incarnation original task force moving forward through the next three (3) years.
- Identifying interested people who can help and make the domains into usable actions that really work.
- Action strategies conversations with people from the city and other people from the public on how accessing to the curb really works and how can we have a bicycle lane and accessible crosswalks at the same time.
- Establishing a program where businesses would want to partner with Department of Disability and Aging organizations to explore innovative ways to create more functionality and accessibility.
- There is a line that shared spaces won't address but should encourage businesses to comply.
- Businesses without accessible entrances are allowed to have shared spaces.

4. Vote on new Action Strategies

- To have individuals to work with business go and vote
- More training for departments around accessibility issues for older adults and adults with disabilities.
- Focusing on the aspect of the business and guidelines for what we're looking for to making it accessible for people with disabilities and aging population.
- To have the opportunity to have a listening session with small businesses about what are the challenges and how to achieve the goals were trying to do.
- To have a discussion about good neighbor policies and or a discussion with the city doing a campaign on how to be a good citizen and blocking the sidewalks.
- Information on where can people walk at a slow speed safely or where vehicles are allowed to travel.
- Pulling together all the requirements for one public understandable document so the applicant is educated and getting the right help needed for the process.

- Areas of interest are in the community engagement issues and how to reach the goal, specific concerns around businesses and how to work together and the idea of public awareness on education.
